

We are a Viking Reenactment Group that offer a service to libraries, schools and museums in addition to our shows and displays service.

Service to Libraries and Museums:

We can offer two or more members of staff in full costume to attend for any period of time to suit you, from an hour to a full day. We can offer story telling from books or from our hand illuminated manuscript. We have hand drawn maps with trade routes and goods shown. We can provide worksheets with questions about Viking Life, Weapons, Trading etc, which involve students in researching and writing answers. We can offer a wide range of practical activities.

Please call for more details and we will be happy to visit you to discuss your requirements.

If desired we can set up a full Viking Trading and Raiding session with A frame tents, working and living areas and a live weapons display.
